

Partha P. Chatteraj

Partner

Partha Chatteraj has extensive experience litigating intellectual property and general business cases in courts and before arbitration tribunals, including at trial and at the appellate level. Mr. Chatteraj has been selected as a New York Super Lawyer in Business Litigation for 2014-2015.

These matters have involved securities disputes, SEC investigations, mergers and acquisitions, entertainment, copyright, trademark, trade secret and non-competition agreements, as well as fraud and contract matters arising out of debt and equity transactions. He also represents clients in mediations and regularly counsels and advises individuals and companies on litigation exposure, litigation and collection strategy, non-competition covenants, and a range of intellectual property issues.

Mr. Chatteraj's clients have included international retailers; investment banks; hedge funds and private equity firms; directors and audit committees of publicly-traded and private companies; software companies and software creative executives; music and book publishers; toy distributors; airlines; Internet start-ups; journalists and authors; hedge fund managers; investment bankers and traders; world-famous musicians; and individual entrepreneurs and shareholders in closely held companies, partnerships and LLCs.

After clerking at the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, Mr. Chatteraj was associated with Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, of counsel to Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan LLP, and a founding partner of Markowitz & Chatteraj LLP.
